

EWAN HENDERSON

WHISKY PRESENTER

SPEAKER PROFILE

Ewan 'Hendo' Henderson is from Glasgow in Scotland. A certified Scotch whisky ambassador who has led a spirits portfolio around the globe. World travelling storyteller in Scotch whisky & rum from production to maturation and everything in-between. You'll be swept across regions hearing incredible stories and legends demystified. A skilled MC and interviewer, he's curiosity driven.

Ewan has collaborated with scientists at the University of Glasgow to explore sensory science & molecular pairing for live events at Glasgow & Edinburgh International science festival in whisky & gin. Inspired by his own curiosity while researching, he built content driven by a desire to know more. This resulted in a first, being able to confidently pair Scotch whisky at a molecular level, Sharing the chemical pathways of flavour earned him the nickname 'molecular magician'. 100+ pairings later and this newfound confidence has allowed a deeper understanding in appreciation. He's gone on to host exclusive 5-star dining experiences across Asia, Europe & the US.

Ewan's passion for heritage, craftsmanship and the people behind distilleries shines through. He's a master storyteller fluent in liquor. Digging deeper into the science, chemistry & geoscience are some of his favorite topics. You'll hear revealing insights and Scotland's geological journey in "3 Billion Years in the Glass."

Ewan's career background is entrepreneurial, owning 3 businesses: a restaurant, a delicatessen & an events company. Formative years working in Europe fed his imagination and led him into hospitality. He loves audience engagement.

Enjoy a fun lively session, relaxed and informal, where guests can interact throughout.

Look forward to meeting you all, and as we say in Scotland...
